

Perfectly Imperfect

Life is full of unexpected twists and turns, and it is in those moments that we often discover something truly remarkable. My new jewelry designs embody this philosophy, as I believe that imperfections and unexpected elements have the power to create an entirely new twist and look, elevating beauty to new heights.

In a world often obsessed with perfection, I choose to embrace the beauty that arises from small imperfections and unique characteristics. This was my inspiration for my new designs: the Dent Range and Bolo Range.

Love, Viona

DENT

Delivery august 23

Introducing my Dent Range, where the presence of a small dent or an asymmetrical touch adds character and charm to each piece. These statement rings and earrings are available in stainless steel and stainless steel gold.

BOLO

Delivery august 23

However, at first glance, you may anticipate the Bolo ring as a perfect ring, like the renowned Boule Ring. However, I've introduced an unexpected twist, an entirely unconventional shape. This unexpected element serves as a gentle reminder that by stepping outside the boundaries of what is considered "perfect," we can embrace the beauty of imperfection.
